Resume 1.2

personality

I love helping others, as I did when I was a tutor at Kienhuis Hoving. I tend to have strong ideas and values. I back my perspective with the creative energy to achieve my goals.

I am always up for a good challenge. That said, certain challenges motivate me more than others. Work that is repetitive, isolated, or otherwise constrained can be frustrating for me.

I often find ways to make my workplaces more creative, inspiring, and caring – I’m the happiest when I have the time and freedom to explore new ideas, and when I can explore those ideas alongside other people who share their excitement.
